NEWS RELEASE – for immediate release

Norfolk-headquartered firm, Inheritance Data, has won the top accolade for Best Use of Technology at the prestigious British Wills and Probate Awards 2022.

The win comes just a week after the company reported a record-breaking year with enhanced services and functions and a significant increase in customers.

At the awards ceremony in Birmingham, judges singled out Inheritance Data for a “solid submission” which proved that the company’s unique technology was bringing a broad range of benefits to the sector.

Inheritance Data was named as one of Archant’s Future50 innovative and entrepreneurial ‘ones to watch’ in 2016.

The company, based in Wymondham, provides a unique asset searching engine that provides Executors and Probate Professionals with a means of tracing assets for deceased individuals.

The service enables executors and other estate administration professionals to save admin time and fulfil all their obligations as an Executor or appointed administrator.

Daniel Cane, CEO of Inheritance Data, said: “This award, which we are exceedingly proud to have won, is firm recognition that our unique technology is delivering a raft of benefits for a growing number of executors and probate professionals, and that means it’s helping bereaved families as well.

“Thanks to our growing and dedicated team and this year’s successes, Inheritance Data is able to offer the most comprehensive Financial Asset Search available in the UK, with a range of other complimentary services, all in one place.”

Through new partners The National Will Register and CLS Property Insight, along with existing partners, increasing numbers of executors and probate professionals are taking advantage of services provided by Inheritance Data.

Inheritance Data is also working with a further range of new partners which will enable additional services to be unveiled soon.

Every search placed comes with a unique warranty to protect the Executor / Administrator from any additional costs that could be incurred from a missed asset for up to 10 years.
